

CARPATHIAN ADVENTURE.

LEADER Pat Robson 07867 577416

This is a week to enjoy the beauty of the natural surroundings. It is a MEDIUM activity holiday and depending on our guests we will choose our activities from the following list. If nothing appeals to you, you can still follow us around with your deck chair and just relax in the sun and enjoy the scenery.

These are some of the possibilities:

- Trout fishing in mountain streams
- Gentle hill walking
- Visiting the bear caves to view stalactites and stalagmites
- Bathing in hot thermal waters
- Swimming in icy mountain lakes
- An opportunity to search for wild flowers and birds, including the beautiful Golden Orioles
- A chance to take photographs of a disappearing culture
- A little water colour painting
- A visit to the White Cross Farms to meet the children and share a meal
- A barbeque at "The house near the stars" to watch the sunset
- A chance to attend a local Orthodox Church service
- A visit to a country town market
- A visit to the sophisticated Baroque style city of Oradea
- And more!

Although in this day and age no one can predict the weather, the beginning of both May and September is usually dry and warm. In May the wild flowers have begun to bloom, and in September it is the end of the grain harvest and at the beginning of the apple and grape harvests. Among your usual holiday clothes you will need sensible walking shoes, several light layers of clothing, a lightweight rain jacket, a swimming costume, sunglasses, sun block, and if you wish a camera and a small pocket watercolour painting set. Deck chairs will be provided for those not wanting to take part in things but please bring your own book.

Pat Robson has been travelling to this area in Romania for the last 19 years. She founded the charity that has inspired Casa Delureni and would like to take you all to the areas she loves best. It will be a relaxed and fun trip.
